The Mitten

Our Hostonville correspondent sends this with his letter:

The following lines were found among the papers of one who has passed away. They breathe the fervor of truth, and are the writings of the very soul of a patriot. You will observe they are an imitation of the song of "The Bridge."

I stood on the bridge, at midnight,
That spans the Hanging Fork;
From Morris' cabin the lamp-light
Shone over my pathway dark.

Beneath the creaking timbers,
The waters quaked and heaved;
And the bridge that came from "Afric"
Was not much spiced that night.

The silvery minnows were sporting
In gladness in the stream,
And the tadpoles sweetly slumbered
In the shadow of the dream.

And, like those tadpoles dreaming,
I must open those eyes,
While thoughts of her came over me,
And my nose was moist with tears.

How often! Oh how often!
On that bridge I've lingered since!
And have gazed along the torpids,
In youthful innocence.

How often! Oh how often!
I have watched those windows bright
Behold those jewels certain,
She slipped her snuff at night!

My bones, they shook with age,
As I stood and shivered there,
And I turned my face to the window,
And said, "Oh, my dear, my dear!"

But, alas! my time was wasted,
My hopes were all in vain,
I'm wearing the badge of the "Union,"
And I cross no bridge since then.

And forever—yes, forever!
Still bearing as I go
That symbol of eternal rejection—
That symbol of love and war.

I now in very sadness
My life shall pass alone,
And I lay me down unmourned,
Unloved—except—unknown.

HOSHTONVILLE, KY.

"Only Trust Me."

When trembling and fearful, I told you, my friend,
The grief of my spirit no language can tell;
And how much of sorrow revealed the low sigh
From the depths of my heart as I uttered good-bye.

And yet a sweet faith in your love, strong and true,
Cured half of the anguish of parting from you;
I could but remember your dear words, and pray
That the days would be few that would keep you away.

I'll trust in your truth, for 'tis Heaven below
To know you, will love me through weal and woe;
And think of the time that will bring you to me—
Forever, and ever, my darling to be.

The hours will be lonely, the days will be long,
And yet in the darkness, I'll hear your sweet song.
In fond faith abiding, I'll wait and be true,
Still trusting, and loving, and living for you.

Believe me, my darling, no doubt you again,
In gladness or sorrow, in joy and in pain,
I'll love you and know you "till death do us part,"
For, living and dying, I'll have my heart.

At 15. Anxious for coming out, and the attention of the other sex.

16. Begins to have some idea of the tender passion.

17. Talks of love in a cottage, and disinterested affection.

18. Fancies herself in love with some handsome man who has flattered her.

19. Is a little more diffident on account of being noticed.

20. Commences being fashionable.

21. Still more confident in her own attractions, and expects a brilliant establishment.

22. Refuses a good offer because he is not a man of fashion.

23. Flirts with every young man she meets.

24. Wonders she is not married.

25. Rather more circumspect in her conduct.

26. Begins to think a large fortune not quite so indispensable.

27. Prefers the company of rational men to flirting.

28. Wishes to be married in a quiet way with a comfortable income.

29. Almost despairs of entering the married state.

30. Rather fearful of being called an "Old Maid."

31. An additional love of dress.

32. Professes to dislike balls, finds it difficult to get good partners.

33. Wonders how men can leave the society of sensible women—to flirt with chits.

34. Affects good humor in her conversation with men.

35. Jealous of the praises of women.

36. Quarrels with her friend who is lately married.

37. Thinks herself slighted in society.

43. Partiality for cards and scandal commences.

The Man who Never Smiles.

Governor Rice is asked to pardon one O'Donnell, of Mulberry, from Charlestown, and a gentleman who recently visited the State prison, thus tells his story: "Gentlemen," said the warden, "I want to bring before you one of the most remarkable cases we have in the prison. We call him 'the man who never smiles,' and I wish before he comes in to tell you his story.

He seems to be a man of more than ordinary ability, one of the better class of substantial, frugal Irish citizens, who owned a small place in one of our manufacturing villages, where he resided with his family of grown up sons and daughters, all permanently employed and in comfortable circumstances. The old man had a fine garden on which he bestowed his leisure hours, in a part of which was a fine lot of cabbages. It seems that the boys in the neighborhood had a habit of trespassing on the old man's garden, until he had determined on getting rid of them by firing his gun to frighten them away. One night, hearing some one in his garden, he took down his gun, and, getting behind the hedge, fired into the garden, as he claims, without aim or seeing any one to aim at. But the report of the gun alarmed the neighbors, who, on rushing into the garden, found the lifeless body of a young girl shot through the heart. The old man, when told what he had done, was struck dumb. He was arrested and sentenced to imprisonment for life. He has now been here for ten years, and his face has become as marble; there is no hope; nothing but the sad remembrance of that dreadful night. In Ireland they have a superstition among the young girls that the woman on Halloween who places a cabbage over the door will marry the first young man that enters the door afterwards. And this, it was proved was the errand of the young girl in the old man's garden.

But instead of wedding she found a grave. (Springfield Republican.)

Mating Canaries.

In the first place, Canaries should never be allowed to mate often than twice in any one year. Some Cana-ries will raise as many as four litters, if not prevented; but a third mating is always injurious, and often brings on a disease which quite ruins the cock bird as a singer. The Canaries while mating should be fed on hard-boiled eggs and common oyster crackers well soaked in boiled milk, but, of course, made cold before being fed to the birds. Hemp-seed should not be used, as it fattens the birds. A piece of raw beef highly seasoned with Cayenne (red) pepper should be fed them as often as once in each week. The cage should not be moved if it can be avoided, and should hang in a darkened room. All Canaries, while mating, like privacy. When the eggs are hatched feed the young birds only on the yellow of hard-boiled eggs for two weeks; after that mix hard dry crackers with egg and feed. Sometimes the hen Canary begins to make her nest before the young birds are able to leave it. At such times put a new nest in the cage, and leave plenty of food for newcomers, as the mother often leaves them uncared for.

Bits of tissue paper cut into fine pieces should be thrown around the new nest, in order to prevent the hen from picking the old one in pieces. Cotton should not be used, as it is highly injurious to the feet of the Canaries;

they often get caught in it, and are quite frequently made cripples for life. Last year two of my Canaries, after they had twice mated, and were evidently determined to do so the third time, were separated, but not before "the vixen" had laid two eggs.

Thereupon followed a scene of great distress. The hen sat on her nest, but refused all food, and constantly chirped for the male bird. I was obliged to return him to the cage to feed her, and the result was two young birds—one, a female, as black as a crow; the other, a male, a bright yellow.

A half-witted Parisian has been making an experiment in dentistry. He had long been suffering from toothache, but ultimately refused to go to a dentist, and at length, finding the pain unendurable, took the following uncommon method of extraction. To the tooth he attached a long string, and to the string a heavy stone; thus armed he proceeded to the topmost story of the house he occupied, opened the window, and hurled the stone into the air. The weight of the stone and the strength and the length of the string produced so violent a shock, that not only was the tooth pulled out, but with it a portion of the jaw, his neck being so painfully twisted that he fainted. Hours ensued ere consciousness returned—and when he recovered his senses, it was only to find himself deprived of the faculty of speech.

Hints to Subscribers.

Always be careful to omit the name of the State from your address. The publisher is supposed to know the State in which every subscriber lives.

It is useful sometimes to sign your name, but if the publisher does not recognize your handwriting and enter your name correctly at once, he ought to resign and give way to some one who can.

If you have a torn or doubtful bill that you haven't the courage even to put in the contribution box, send it along. The publisher has peculiar facilities for selling defaced currency and counterfeit bills at a premium.

If for any reason you do not receive your paper promptly write the publisher a sharp letter. Call him a swindler or some similar pleasant epithet. It indicates true christian forbearance on your part and produces an agreeable effect on him.

If you inclose (by mistake) a stamp for reply, paste it carefully and firmly on the letter. The effort to remove without destroying it is likely to make the publisher s-mile.

Be particular not to pre-pay your letter. It affords the publisher infinite delight at a cost of only six cents to send to the Dead-letter Office for it.

Always take it for granted that the subscribers never make any mistakes, and that the publisher is responsible for all errors and delays.

STANFORD, KY.

Friday Morning, March 20, 1878.

W. P. Walton, Editor.

A FEW days ago Mr. E. G. Logan, the Courier-Journal's excellent correspondent at Frankfort, published a table showing the amount of mileage claimed and paid to each member of the Legislature, and among others mentioned the Hon. John Charles Thompson, of Mercer, as having "gobbed" a few more miles than he should have done. That, Mr. T. had been paid for 120 miles travel by the C. & E. and the L. C. & E. Railroads, when the fact was he had gone from Harrodsburg to Frankfort in a private conveyance, the distance being only 32 miles. As soon as the Honorable gentleman saw the piece in the C. & E. he reared, tore his shirt and in other ways succeeded most admirably in making an ass of himself. In a red-hot speech he said that a reflection had been cast upon his honor and honesty, and moved that Mr. Logan be immediately expelled from the privileges of the House. A good deal of silly twaddle was engaged in by men who felt that they had not acted squarely in the matter of mileage, and but for the calmness of a member who moved an adjournment till Monday, there is no telling what terrible things would have been done. By Monday, however, Mr. Thompson, who in the meantime had had a satisfactory interview with Mr. Logan, had cooled the fire of his indignation, and like the sensible gentleman that we had always taken him to be, arose when the House convened and withdrew his motion of expulsion, and moved that Mr. Logan be allowed to make a personal explanation, which was adopted. Mr. Logan in a neat little speech denied any intention of impugning the honor of Mr. T., but adhered to the belief that abuses had crept into the public service through this matter of mileage. He regretted the duty that compelled him, as a member of the press, to look into such things, confessed that the word "gobbed" was a little unfortunately used, and was willing to meet Mr. T. half way in the reconciliation. And thus was settled the troubles that on Saturday seemed to be ready to engulf the poor newspaper man, who is doing the State more service to-day than the whole body of imbecile Legislators. Mr. Thompson having been such a strong supporter of any measure looking towards an investigation, and taking into consideration the fact that he was once a newspaper man, he was the last of the body we could have thought guilty of moving the expulsion of a member of the press, who wanted nothing further than a little investigation of the matter of mileage.

MADISON MATTERS.—John Morgan, of Garrard county, was tried in Richmond, this week for the murder of Eben Best, in September 1874. A verdict of guilty was found and his punishment fixed at 13 years in the Penitentiary. The case against Gen. Clay for killing the negro Perry White, was dismissed by the Grand Jury. A seduction case, wherein a suit for $50,000 has been filed, is the sensation of the day. Green B. Millon, a wealthy farmer, is accused of causing his niece, Miss Jackson, who has borne a reputation of virtue and modesty, to become the mother of an illegitimate child. The girl has been living in the family of Millon for some time, and it was during that time that her ruin was accomplished. A couple of young men about to be sentenced to jail for carrying concealed weapons, slipped out of the Court-house and are still at large.

It may be interesting to the constituents of the following Legislators to know how much mileage they get for going and returning from Frankfort, so we give the list. The law fixes the rate at fifteen cents per mile each way, and contemplates that the members shall go the nearest or most practicable route. Lincoln, J. S. Owensley, 354 miles, $53.10; Garrard, J. B. Mason, 166 miles, $24.90; Boyle, Jno. Cowan, 120 miles, $18; Casey and Russell, F. D. Rigney, has drawn nothing, so far; Knox and Whitley, J. B. Perkins, 534 miles, $80.10; Rockcastle and Laurel, Abner Eversole, 446 miles, $66.90; Madison, E. W. Turner, 120 miles, $18; Pulaski, W. Tarter, 412 miles, $61.80; Wayne, T. J. Oatts, 260 miles, $39.

The Appropriation Committee, of which Mr. Durham is a member, has presented a bill to congress to cover the expenses of the legislative, executive and judicial branches of the government. The appropriation is six million and, as large as the amount appears, is a saving over the amount appropriated last year of six hundred thousand dollars. The difference is made by reducing the clerical force, dispensing with high-salaried clerks, and abolishing the offices of the fourth and fifth Auditors of the Treasury, and throwing their work on the other Auditors.

The Yeoman remarks that the Monticello correspondent of the Somerset Reporter suggests the name of Hon. J. B. Christian, for Congress. That correspondent is evidently behind the times. Mr. Christian has been suggesting the thing himself for the last six months.

BRIEF NEWS NOTES.—A severe squall struck the ship Eurydice, while sailing in the British Channel this week, throwing her on her beam ends and sinking her immediately. Of the three hundred persons on board only two were saved. The steamer J. W. Gaff, sunk in the Ohio River last Saturday. The passengers, 90 in number, were rescued, but the cargo, consisting of 1,500 bales of cotton, went down with her. She was valued at $30,000 and insured for $22,500. Three of the Mollie Maguires, Hester, Tully and McHugh, were hung at Bloomsburg, Pa., on Monday. Three negroes were hung at Abbeville, Ala., last Friday, for the murder of a white woman in 1876. They were all innocent and went shouting home to glory. O'Leary, the Irish-American pedestrian, has won the championship of the world. He made 520 miles in England, against four competitors in less than six days. By a vote of 127 to 93, the Rhode Island Legislature defeated the woman suffrage bill. A boiler explosion in Henrico county, near Richmond, Va., killed four persons and fatally wounded seven others. The House bill extending the time of whist in bond two years, has passed the National Senate. A terrible fire, destroying a million or more dollars worth of property, raged all Tuesday night in Philadelphia. Martin O'Neil, a former contractor on the C. S. R. R., has been brought back from Missouri to Lexington and lodged in jail, on a charge of subornation of perjury. There are 1,001 convicts in the Penitentiary. Going into bankruptcy is still the order of the day in Lexington. J. M. Hocker & Co., the former well known in this vicinity, has filed his petition. Liabilities, $132,500; assets, $85,000. T. Logan Hocker, formerly cashier of the Farmers and Traders Bank of that city, is also a bankrupt, with liabilities of $60,000; assets, $20,000.

The Tyler Penitentiary Bill, which passed the Senate this week, provides the hiring out of convicts, but leaves the matter optional with the convict whether he shall work on public improvements or remain in the prison walls, and if he prefers the hiring out his choice must be expressed in writing. Was there ever such a thing heard of before as a convict having the right to say what he will do? Well, it is about as much as we can expect of a Senate so tender-hearted to law-breakers that they could not bear to have the Whipping-Post established. They ought to pass a law now allowing the criminal to say whether he shall be punished at all or not. Their advanced ideas in regard to the feelings of such cattle would be fully in accordance with such a law.

We have been frequently asked, "When does the new law in regard to carrying concealed weapons go into effect?" There was no time fixed in the act, but there is a law which regulates such matters, making such acts effective at the expiration of sixty days after their approval by the Governor. The Yeoman says this was done on the 6th of March. Consequently the law will take effect on the 6th of May, when it will be unlawful for even an officer to carry a weapon unless it is where every one can see it. We are very fearful that the law will have more effect on them than on the bloody cut throats.

A most diabolical crime was committed by John Wallace, near Littleton, W. Va., a few days ago. He, at the instigation of his brother George, enticed the latter's wife and child to take a walk and when about a mile from her house, in a secluded place, he murdered them with a club. A young white girl, Mary Church, who knew of the horrible deed, was also murdered, not however; until the brute had satisfied his low passions with her body. Wallace was arrested, confessed his crime, and the following night was taken from the officers by a body of men and hanged a short distance from the jail.

BOOTS AND SHOES.
M. F. Brinkley purchased his stock of boots and shoes directly from the manufacturers in Boston. He sells them for cash.

BAKE NEEDS.
The farmers complain that a good rain is greatly needed. The ground is becoming so dry and hard, as seriously to interfere with ploughing.

PREACHING.
Elder William Ashill conducted the services at the Christian Church last Sunday morning. At night he preached a very interesting discourse on 1st Cor., 15, 26.

MURPHY APPOINTMENTS.
Murphy meetings will be held at Buckeye on Friday and Saturday nights of the present week. Mr. Lusk proposes to go to every church and school-house in the county.

NEW CANDIDATE FOR JAILER.
Saml. Thompson having withdrawn from the race for Jailer, by reason of his inability, in accordance with an arrangement effected at the time of holding the Democratic Convention, Mr. J. L. Joplin takes his place on the ticket as the nominee of the Democratic party for the office of Jailer.

M. F. BRINKLEY
is now receiving in daily shipments from the East, his new and elegant stock of Spring goods. The stock will be complete in a few days. Those wishing bargains are invited to call and see the neat variety of Dry Goods, Ladies' Suits, Notions, Dress Goods, Clothing, Boots and Shoes, at the lowest prices ever known.

WEDDING BELLS.
On Wednesday, at the residence of Mr. John Hickey, in Mt. Vernon, Patrick Naughton was married to Mrs. Mary Cox. The ceremony was pronounced by Rev. Father Callahan, of Richmond, Ky. In chronicling the happiness of this newly-wedded pair, it is with genuine good feeling that we say, May they live long and prosper.

COAST DOINGS.
Last Monday was County Court day. There was a small crowd in town. Candidates were busy. Little business was done in Court. James Frazer was appointed Overseer of the State road. Thomas Hays was appointed administrator of the estate of Adam Griffin, dec'd. A number of settlements were filed. Quarterly Court will convene next Monday. The docket is a light one.

PERSONAL.
Miss Celia D. Adams returned Monday evening from a brief visit to her friends and relatives in Garrard. Misses Clench, of Pulaski, were the guests this week of Mrs. J. B. Brown. M. F. Brinkley arrived at home Saturday night, after an absence of two weeks in the East. Mr. J. W. Tharp, the gentlemanly correspondent of the INTERIOR JOURNAL at Broadhead, was in town last night. We notice that he wears the blue. Miss Lullie Vowels, a handsome young lady from New Hope, is visiting her brother, James E. Vowels, at this place.

LET UP FOR A WHILE.
The Murphy meetings continued last week up to Thursday night, when an adjournment over till Monday night was effected. Last night the meetings closed for the present. The roll of signers now contains 205 names. Mr. Alex. Lusk, who worked indefatigably and without any assistance whatever, throughout, has done good work in our midst. While none of those who donned the blue were confirmed drunks, yet not a few of them were men of intemperate habits, and now, if they will only "stick," the good effects of their recent action will shortly be seen. The parting advice of Mr. Lusk to all the recruits was "to stick or die." We hope the will "stick" and live.

ACCIDENT IN THE COAL MINES.
George Ray and John Warnick, miners in the employ of C. Crooke & Co., were seriously injured at Pine Hill last Friday, by the accidental explosion of a blast. The blast which they were working, was overhead in an entry to one of the mines. It had been loaded, and Ray was tamping it. It is supposed that the fuse was cut by the drill, and a spark from the sulphurous rock ignited it. Ray received the discharge in his face which is swollen and fearful. The drill in its recoil cut his head severely. Had it struck him a little lower down, it would have broken his skull. Both men were badly hurt. For a few days it was doubtful whether Ray would recover, but at last accounts he is in a fair way of doing so. It is feared that his vision will be seriously impaired, if not completely destroyed.

REDUCED AND CRAZED.
Tabitha Day, aged 21 years, was brought before his Honor, Judge G. W. McClure, last Monday on a writ of habeas corpus. The evidence conducted to show that she had been living with her mother, in the Copper Creek neighborhood, for some four or five years, her father being dead. She has always been a quiet, well-behaved girl. About three weeks ago, she gave birth to a child, and shortly afterwards her insanity began to develop itself. At times she is very violent, tearing her clothing, and giving utterance to terrible profanity. The name of her seducer was not disclosed by the evidence, and outside of that we cannot go. It was shown, however, that her seduction led to her insanity. And he, the fiend, in human shape, who robbed this poor girl, not only of her purity, but of her reason, will go free, while his victim occupies a maniac's cell, or as her appearance indicates, will shortly fill a maniac's grave. We know of no punishment that is half severe enough for such a wretch. She was ordered to be sent to the Asylum at Lexington.

THE PINE HILL COAL COMPANY.
By a recent enactment of the Legislature, a charter has been granted to a corporation whose place of business will be Pine Hill, under the corporate name of the "Pine Hill Coal Company." The names of the incorporators are W. C. Crooke, W. P. Crooke, J. R. Crooke and W. R. Smith. The Company will engage in the business of mining and shipping coal. They propose, as under the charter, they have the power to do, to build a railroad from the main track at Pine Hill, to the rich coal fields of Skaggs Creek, a distance of six or eight miles. This branch road will be in operation in a short time. A 20-ton Engine has been purchased, and this, together with a smaller Engine which is now owned by Messrs. Crooke & Co., will be sufficient for transportation. The opening up of the branch road will bring in reach of the market a number of fine coal fields in the Skaggs Creek region, and will be a great thing for the owners of the coal. Such enterprises as this deserve to meet with success, and we hope the "Pine Hill Coal Company" will prosper. QUITO.

The Kentucky Legislature.

MARCH 21.

SENATE.—The question of adjournment and the Penitentiary bill were discussed, but nothing definite arrived at.

EVERING SESSION.—House bill to amend an Act to suppress official reports to preserve evidence, was concurred in. House bill to legalize certain certificates for Wild Cat and Fox scalp, was amended and passed.

HOUSE.—A resolution to adjourn sine die on the 2nd of April, adopted. A bill to fix the tax on real and personal property at 53 cents on the $100 was presented and referred. The bill to repeal the act which was taken up and rejected by a vote of 42 yeas to 43 nays. Mr. Owensley and Mr. Cowan joined. The former was for the repeal and the latter against it.

EVERING SESSION.—A bill to amend Chap. 18, General Statutes "Common Schools," passed. A bill to prohibit granting licenses to Coffee-house Saloons, taverns or tipping houses to sell spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, was amended and passed. Senate bill to establish the County of Leslie, was passed.

MARCH 22.
SENATE.—A bill appropriating $12,100 to the Geological Survey for two years. Passed. A bill providing for the compensation of Clerks in Criminal cases, was amended and passed.

EVERING SESSION.—Nothing of general interest was done.

HOUSE.—Mr. Buford offered a resolution to inquire into the propriety of repealing the 6 per cent. interest law recently enacted by the Legislature. Tabled, as was a bill to reconsider. A bill to amend an Act to provide for the future management of the Agricultural College was passed. A bill appropriating $250 for Prof. Tobin to exhibit his "vine Pendulum" at the Paris Exposition. Passed.

EVERING SESSION.—Senate bill to amend the charter of the Lancaster and Richmond Turnpike. A resolution allowing a member to be excused, only one minute to explain his vote, was adopted.

MARCH 23.
SENATE.—After convening and doing nothing for a short time, the body adjourned.

HOUSE.—A committee of five was appointed to investigate the matter of mileage drawn by members and report amounts to which each member is entitled. A bill to fix the fees of the Clerk of the Court of Appeals. Passed. A resolution to apply all moneys overdrawn by members for mileage to a newspaper fund for the purpose of buying drinks to keep the newspaper correspondents in a good humor, was tabled. A bill to provide for the maintenance of nuisances in this Commonwealth was passed. A resolution was offered by J. C. Thompson, member from Mercer, to expel Mr. E. G. Logan from the privileges of the House because he had reflected on his honor and honesty. A great deal of foolish talk was elicited by this silly resolution and pending its discussion the House adjourned.

MARCH 25.
SENATE.—House bill in regard to Adjutant Quarter Master and Inspector General. Passed. The Penitentiary bill, which provides for the hiring out of convicts to contractors and others, at last came to a vote, and was passed. A bill for the relief of the Western Lunatic Asylum, appropriating $50,000 for erecting buildings for the insane lunatics, and enlarging the white' department with any surplus fund that may come into the hands of the Commissioner. Passed. A bill for the appointment of an Assistant Attorney General. Rejected. An evening session was held, but nothing of consequence was done.

HOUSE.—Senate bill fixing the compensation of Clerks in criminal cases was amended and passed. Mr. J. C. Thompson rose to a personal explanation, and withdrew his motion to expel Mr. E. G. Logan from the privileges of the House. Mr. Logan was also allowed to make an explanation, and everything was laid aside. A bill to incorporate the Tradesmen Improvement Company, and give it 100 convicts to assist in locking and dam, using the river, was passed. Senate bill to legalize wills and testaments was concurred in. A bill to incorporate the State Agricultural, Botanical and Zoological Association, Louisville, was passed.

MARCH 26.
SENATE.—House bill to empower the Auditor, with the assent of the Governor and Attorney General, to compromise with defaulting Sheriffs was amended and passed. A bill to prevent, under heavy fines, druggists or apothecaries from selling poisons was passed. On motion of Mr. Bruce it was resolved that no member be allowed, in the future, more than one minute to explain his vote.

EVERING SESSION.—A bill to amend an Act directing the purchase of Colored History of Kentucky was rejected. The Bigger Bank Act was killed by a vote of 10 to 24. A motion to reconsider was tabled.

HOUSE.—A resolution that in future no member be allowed more than five minutes to make a speech on any subject, was adopted. The Penitentiary bill, which passed the Senate, was amended as to every clause, and passed. The Committee on Education, finding that no member had "gobbed," asked to be discharged. A bill for a Branch Penitentiary was adopted.

EVERING SESSION.—Senate bill authorizing the Auditor to compromise with defaulting Sheriffs was concurred in. A bill to provide for the licensing of Doctors and Lawyers was tabled.

MARCH 27.
IN REPLY TO THE DEATH OF DR. MARTIN H. MARRIOTT.—member from Harlan county, neither House of the Legislature did anything further than appoint committees to draft resolutions in respect to his memory.

IN REMEMBRANCE.
The sorrow that pervaded the entire community, and the bereavement of the family of one of our most prominent and highly honored citizens, on the 19th inst., were occasioned by the death of Dr. MARTIN H. MARRIOTT, of Harlan county, Kentucky. Calmly and with Christian resignation, surrounded by his children, in his beautiful home, and the fragrance of the blossoms of early Spring, he quietly departed, leaving behind him a noble and pure life. He was a man of high character, and his death was a great loss to the community. He was a man of high character, and his death was a great loss to the community. He was a man of high character, and his death was a great loss to the community.

The subject of this sketch was born in Lancaster, Ky., in 1824, and has never resided in any other place. He was the son of Dr. Martin H. Marriott, of the same name. He was a man of high character, and his death was a great loss to the community. He was a man of high character, and his death was a great loss to the community. AN ANTI-SPRINTING FACT.—A large proportion of the American people are to-day dying from the effects of Dyspepsia or disordered liver. The results of these diseases upon the masses of intelligent and valuable people is most alarming, making life actually a burden instead of a pleasant existence. The remedy is simple and well known. There is no good reason for this, if you will only throw aside prejudice and skepticism, take the advice of Druggists and your friends, and try one bottle of Green's August Flower. Your speedy relief is certain. Millions of bottles of this medicine have been given away to try its virtues with satisfactory results in every case. You can buy a sample bottle for 10 cents to try. Three doses will relieve the worst case. Positively sold by all Druggists on the Western Continent. Bohn & Stagg, Stanford, Ky.

PERSONAL.

MR. JOE SEVERANCE has gone to the cities for his Spring stock.

MISS FAYETTE OWENS, of Harbottle, has been visiting friends here.

HON. JOHN S. OWEN was at home this week on a short leave of absence.

MR. E. B. HAYDEN left on Monday for New York to buy a large stock of goods.

MISS R. C. WHITELY, a lovely young lady of Danville, is visiting Mrs. J. E. Farris.

JUDITH W. E. STURGE, of Liberty, was in town a few days since, en route to Somerset.

CAPT. P. B. FIELD, who left the bell cord on the passenger train, while Capt. Smith is off on a trip.

MISS KATE OWEN, and Mrs. E. B. Brainerd, of Lincoln, Ill., are visiting their cousin, Mr. Asher Owens.

MISS ANNA CRAFT, of Danville, and Miss Marie Barnes came over and spent a day or two with the latter's mother last week.

MRS. CHAIRMAN DUNLAP, a handsome widow, and Miss Emma Greenleaf, the reigning belle of Lancaster, made a short visit to Mrs. Geo. H. Bruce this week.

MR. H. P. McDONALD, of Louisville, a noted architect, is in town. Mr. McD. has made quite a reputation as a jail builder, and may have a hand in the new county court-house to be built.

MR. W. C. CHASE, a representative of Messrs. Seawood & Co.'s great Clothing House, Cincinnati, favors us with a card of that establishment. There is not a more reliable house anywhere than his, nor is there among the traveling salesmen a cleverer man than Mr. Chase.

CHAS. W. G. WELCH, of Stanford, the Judge of the Court of the Eighth Circuit, was in Frankfort yesterday. There are those who say he will be a candidate for Attorney General, and I am one who would say, from a personal acquaintance, a better candidate could not be obtained.—(E. G. L., in Courier-Journal.)

LOCAL NEWS.

THE much needed rain came on yesterday.

GARDEN SEEDS 5 cents a paper at the P. O. Store.

FRESH Salmon Fish at Weaver & Evans' Saturday evening.

THE Presbyterian Sunday School will meet hereafter promptly at 9:30.

HEAD Quarters for all kinds of garden Seeds at WEAVER & EVANS.

WEAVER & EVANS sell a good two horse wagon with bed and brake, for $70.

TRUSTEES.—An election of Town Trustees will be held on Saturday, April 6th.

We sell full size papers Landreth's Garden Seeds at 5c. WEAVER & EVANS.

THE Electric Annulet which was put up at the St. Asaph Hotel this week, works like a charm.

THE confessions in Mr. Barnes' meeting at Danville, number 609, yesterday, and still the good work goes on.

REMEMBER that we Retail at Wholesale prices the best and cheapest double-shovel plow in the market.—WEAVER & EVANS.

MONDAY will be County Court. The Magistrates will decide on that day in regard to plans and specifications for the new Jail.

GARDEN SEEDS.—A full assortment of D. M. Ferry & Co.'s and the Detroit Seed Co.'s Garden Seeds for sale at J. N. Davis' at 5 cents a paper.

SPRING HATS.—Jim Davis has the best selected stock of Spring Hats ever brought to Stanford, which he has marked low down. Go examine and be convinced.

DISSOLUTION.—Mr. A. G. Pendleton has purchased the interest of his partner, Mr. Harrison Hocker, in the hardware and grocery store and will hereafter conduct the business in his own name.

MR. D. B. EDMISTON is greatly elated over the new law giving Circuit Clerks $3 in each Commonwealth's case. The Clerks have been doing that great amount of work heretofore for no pay at all.

CAN YOU BEAT IT?—Wm. Martin, the champion post and rail fence builder of Lincoln, performed a remarkable days work at Mr. A. M. Feland's this week. He bored 44 posts, five inches thick, making eighteen sugar holes in each.

A DEAD BEAT.—We have space only to give the following item of our Waynesboro letter: Some time last fall, Owen county vomited into our midst one Henry Vanpelt, who, by agreeable chin music, succeeded in running his face upon a number of our citizens for a nice little sum, which he settled by leaving the country. If you ever see a big, red mustached, blue-eyed man who looks like he ought to be in the penitentiary, that's Vanpelt, without a doubt.

RELIGIOUS.

We are requested to announce that Eld. Milton Elliott, of Madison, will preach at the Christian church, Crab Orchard, next Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, and Sunday at 11.

The Courier-Journal says that it is a matter of remark that nearly all the men who have recently bankrupted in Lexington, are members of the Church of Christ, otherwise known as Campbellites.

A Union Communion will be held at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath. Services preparatory thereto will begin on Saturday, at 11 o'clock. Revs. Archibald and J. Loton Barnes, will officiate.

The Rev. T. A. Tibbitts, of Virginia, has been called to the Rectory of Christ Episcopal church in Lexington, Kentucky, and accepted. He will officiate for the first time at the Easter Services.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS.—A visit to the various Sunday Schools here, last Sabbath, which was a bright and beautiful one, revealed the fact that the total number, by actual count, of teachers and scholars in all the schools combined, was but 148, divided as follows: Christian 56; Baptist 34; Methodist 31, and Presbyterian 27. This is a poor showing for a town with as many young people as this.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP ITEMS.

The frost on Sunday night killed nearly all the early apples in this vicinity.

Mr. A. D. Root sold to Mr. Benedict Spaulding, 9 extra fine calves at $35 per head.

Pulaski traders are going to try to establish regular stock sales on County Court days.

Mr. J. H. Walker has purchased of Col. R. F. Bibb, his portion of the farm they owned in partnership, near McKinney's Station, at $41 50 per acre.

At a sale in Madison county last week, the Register says that mules brought $75; cows $25 to $30; corn $1 95 to $2; and oats $2 per hundred bushels.

WINCHESTER COURT DAY.—About 600 head of cattle on the market, and sold at from 3 to 4 cents per pound. But few mules or horses on the market.

It is officially estimated that the wheat crop this year will be 70,000,000 bushels larger than last year's crop, leaving 100,000,000 bushels for exportation.

The State of Tennessee produces from forty-five to fifty million bushels of corn annually, and for the production of that cereal ranks as the sixth State in the Union.

LANCASTER COURT.—Mr. J. D. Price, Auctioneer, reports business dull and bidding slow. He sold one cow and calf for $25; 7 2-year old heifers $11 per head; 11 do., at $20; 1 horse $47; 1 do., at $45 50; 2 mule colts at $48; 1 work mule $70.

LOUISVILLE.—Cattle maintain the figures of $4 25 to $4 50 for best butchers; $3 to $4 25 for stockers and feeders. Medium to good, $3 75 to $4. Common $3 to $3 50. Oxen $3 to $4 25. The market is firm and cattle sell readily at these figures. The Hog market is active, choice $3 80 to $3 90. Fair to good, $3 50 to $3 75. Sheep—Extra $4 to 4 50. Common $3 to $3 75.

Deputy Sheriff Caldwell sold under execution, on Saturday last, the following property of Monroe Hickman, colored, 16 head sheep at 80 cents per head; 3 do., at $2 25; 20 hogs at $2 35 per cwt; 1 dry cow $18; 1 cow and calf $31 25; 5 yearling calves, $8 per head. On the same day, Constable Bobbitt also sold of Hickman's property, 2 yearling mules $25 and $31; 1 aged mule $51; 1 cow $20; 1 wagon $15; &c., &c.

To Pensioners of the War of 1812. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. Washington, D. C., March 22, 78. Editor Interior Journal: I have sent to each County Clerk in my District, a copy of the late law allowing pensions to certain soldiers of the war of 1812. I have also sent the instructions and forms of application so that all persons interested may call and see what is necessary in making said applications, thus saving them the trouble of writing to the Commissioner.

Yours, M. J. DURHAM.

LINCOLN COUNTY NEWS.

Pigeons THE FARMERS

of this locality are nearly ready to plant corn, but they had better not be too fast, they might have to plant the second time.

APPOINTMENTS.

Rev. Robert Caldwell will preach at Bright's School-house next Sunday, at 11 o'clock.—Rev. G. B. Wagner will preach at Rush Branch church at the same hour.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

There will be singing at Bright's School-house next Sunday evening, at 2 1/2 o'clock, after the singing is over there will be some steps taken towards organizing a Sunday School, something that is very much needed in this neighborhood.

ALMOST A FIRE.

The house of Mrs. C. E. Cline came very near being burnt a few nights ago. There was some clothing on a chair in front of the fire-place which caught fire in some way, the clothing was all burned up, and a press near by had just begun to burn when the fire was discovered. It was about 12 o'clock in the night.

PERSONAL.

MR. G. P. Bright has been confined to his room for some time with Rheumatism. Mr. C. V. Gentry, our next Constable, seems to be in doubt about the vote at this place, at least he is electioneering in certain portions of our town right often. Mr. William Smith, a tenant on Mrs. John Engleman's farm, has been quite sick several days with kidney affection.

Crab Orchard RELIGIOUS.

Rev. Mr. Story preached two sermons at the Christian church last Sunday.—Rev. W. M. Reid, of Wayne county, also preached a series of sermons at the Christian church last week.—Rev. J. L. Allen, of Danville, will preach every second Sunday in each month at this church.

IMPROVING THE SPRING PROPERTY.

The Crab Orchard Springs seem more inviting than ever. Several improvements have been made since last season. The flower pit surpasses any we have ever seen, and contains a great many select flowers. It would be a great treat to the Stanford boys to come up and boat ride with the ladies on the lake. Nothing would suit a certain young attorney better than to sit with his true love for hours near the center of the placid lake in the boat and call her "Lady of the Lake."

A NOBBER TEACHER IN TROUBLE.

One Charlotte Mikes, a negro, who has been teaching the colored school here, was arrested and taken before Judge A. C. Carson, yesterday, for forgery. She had been boarding with one of the colored men of the school, Violet Burdette. The former pretended to have paid the latter $12 for board, but in fact, only paid $3. The bills were supposed to be a $10 note and a $2 note, but the former was counterfeited by placing stamps removed from cigar boxes on a $1 bill, which looked very much like a $10 note to a person not accustomed to handling much money. Charlotte was sent on for further trial, and a bond of $50 required, which she gave.

THE MURPHYS AND A FIRE ALARM.

The Murphys are still holding the Fort, and the tidal wave of temperance has at last reached the confines of the East End. Rev. W. M. Reid, of Wayne county, made a most excellent and appropriate temperance speech on Thursday night, which was highly appreciated by the audience. Judge Hunsford made, as usual, a good speech and quite a number signed the pledge and doctored the blues. A few minutes after the audience had congregated at the Christian church for the purpose of carrying on the Murphy movement, an alarm of fire was given and great excitement prevailed for some time. One half of the audience thought the Spring's buildings were on fire, the other half supposed the town was on fire, but as fate would have it, it was neither. Some men beyond town were only burning briars. In the midst of the excitement the young ladies lost their beaus, and the beaus their hats, and of course the usual number of tears were shed, but when the beaus returned and found their hats the profusion of tears were changed to great laughter.

DEATH OF DR. CAMPBELL.

Died, on the morning of Friday, 22nd inst., Dr. A. A. Campbell, long a citizen of this village. A professional friend hands the following brief tribute which I trust you will admit in lieu of my letter:

In the death of Dr. Alexander A. Campbell, this community has lost an honored and respected member of society. Above pretense and ostentation—above resorting to the arts by which so many, half as well prepared thrust themselves into notoriety, he was highly esteemed as a physician by those who had an opportunity to learn his worth. He made no claim to extensive medical knowledge; he attempted no difficult surgical operations; but he possessed what all the schools of medicine could not supply, an observing mind, a retentive memory, a sound judgment, and a high sense of responsibility. His circle of practice may have been circumscribed by his lack of reckless confidence, but not by any deficiency of mind or heart. Of good medical education, or attainments, or of faithful and successful practice. His standard of professional and personal honor was high, his intellectual endowments superior, his social qualities eminent. He will be sorely missed.

HIGHLAND.

THE MURPHYS have held two meetings since our last report, and enrolled 71 more names.

ITEMS IN BRIEF.

Wm. White is building a new house.—J. K. Horton has rented George Baugh's store-room, and moved his goods into it.

HORSE STORIES.

On the night of the 22d inst., somebody took one of Dr. Barber's horses out of his stable and rode it till daylight, and then turned the horse in a lot at Cuba and went on about.

BIRTHS.

To the wife of Jno. M. Long, on the 12th inst., a fine boy, on the same day, to the wife of C. H. Baker, a big boy. To the wife of B. B. Young, on the 25th inst., a fine girl—weight, 11 pounds.

PERSONAL.

Wm. H. Young, of College Hill, Ky., was in our place last week visiting relatives and friends. E. E. Gragg, from the same place, is stopping at J. M. Cook's. He is on his way to Somerset.

XTRA.

GARRARD COUNTY NEWS.

LANCASTER.

Farmers say that the wheat crop looks promising in upper Garrard.

DIDN'T DRAW.

The Theatrical Troupe advertised for a week departed after two performances, from a town that cares for nothing but Murphy or religious meetings.

DELIGHTFUL WEATHER.

Lancaster has enjoyed a season of delightful sunshine that has pushed forward the gardener's work and cut short the column of coal smoke that has for months ascended from so many chimneys. Not even the equinox has produced more than a few still breezes.

BIG TRADE IN EGGS.

Two merchants of Point Lick have shipped 3,500 dozen eggs to Louisville since the first of February. If Sir Craddock's exalted prestige will permit him to condescend to such small affairs, he might be respectfully solicited to mate this Roland with an Oliver.

RELIGIOUS MATTERS.

Gen'l Green Clay Smith closed his meeting at the Baptist church on Monday night, with twelve additions by confession and two by letter. The immersion took place on Tuesday morning at Mr. Curry's pond. A protracted meeting at Point Lick will begin on Friday. Sacramental meeting at the Presbyterian church in this place will begin on Friday night. Dr. Hays will be assisted by Dr. Edwards.

MEAT THIEVES.

On Sunday night a few of the honest Africans who are ashamed to beg, and yet who realize the fact that they have dependent families, paid a visitation to the country meat-houses and eventually made a raid on Mr. B. M. Burdett's supply, about a mile from town. With the assistance of a colored detective, Mr. Burdett succeeded in finding his lost property, and the culprits were brought to trial on Tuesday.

ORANGE BLOSSOMS.

The Hymeneal knot has several times been tied this month. On the 3d inst., Miss Rachel Bakes was married to Mr. George Dulane; on the 5th, Miss Edie Burton to Mr. Wm. E. Ray; on same date, Miss Sallie Todd to Mr. James W. Whitaker; on the 14th, Miss Mattie Scott to Mr. J. W. Harris; on the 20th, Miss Mattie C. Ford to Mr. David Blanton; on the 25th, Miss Mary Layton to Mr. Jno. Tudor; on the 28th, Miss Emma Jones to Mr. Thos. Hendon.

COURT DAY DOINGS.

County Court last Monday, nothing of general interest transpiring, either in Court-room or street. The usual array of cattle that did not seem to have been recently imported from England. On Tuesday fiscal court was in session. The principal business on hand was the investigation of the Sheriff's return of delinquent taxpayers, and a sale of the lot, which was purchased by W. M. Kerby at the price of $100. Col. Mat. Walton, Master Commissioner of the Garrard Circuit Court, sold nine acres of the Harvey Park land, at $280, to O. S. Williams. There were several other small land sales.

WE CAN APPRECIATE YOUR CONDITION.

Time, it is said, makes all things even. Yet, it seems fearful changes on the scroll of destiny. To-day we flourish in the sunshine of a limitless prosperity; to-morrow the lopped branches lie low in the gloom of the swift-passing shadows. At morn the familiar voice, the kindly glance, the well-known smile, bid us go forth to the mill of busy humanity—there to grind the whims, the pleasures, the cares of fickle fancy into the current commodity that oils or clogs the wheels of life. At eve we return heavy laden with the garnered stores, and find the light of the home extinguished—the tones that inspired the day's energies hushed forever in an awful repose, and we feel within our breast a cumbersome stone instead of the lightly-palpating organ of life. These rapid changes time makes. And, were feeling alone the guide to action, many would indeed be but dumb cattle in the bivouac of life. To be up and doing is the watchword; and thus your correspondent returns to the literary plow, to cover as best she may the furrows of care with the furrows of duty. Your last issue contained the announcement of the grievous inroads death so recently made in the family of your correspondent by the removal of a wife and mother whose loss in this two-fold capacity must of necessity be more painfully felt than if her character had been a more passive one. It can scarcely be necessary to the right-feeling of your readers to apologize for making a somewhat extended reference to the deceased, since there is no other reporter for your paper upon whom the duty devolves. The sudden death by Paralysis of Mrs. G. W. Dunlap, was the occasion of a demonstration of affectionate testimonials not often met with in a world where merit is so frequently unrewarded. All that friends from far and near could offer in respectful tribute was freely brought to the bereaved household, and the bier of the sleeping inmate was literally a bed of flowers. Recipients of her bounty, both of the white and colored population, came in an almost unbroken procession to look upon the calm features that had smiled so benignantly on them in times past. And when the mortal remains were borne for the last time across the threshold of the home it had been her pride to adorn, a vast number followed with hearts keenly realizing the awfulness of the unexpected calamity. The Christian church was decorated and draped by the ladies of the congregation. Choirs from the different churches united at the organ to send up joint notes of sorrow. Elder J. L. Allen delivered a most eloquent address from the words, "They shall rest from their labors and their works do follow them." His remarks upon the active benevolence and incessant working of the deceased were silently attested by all who had known her. Gen. Green Clay Smith, suspended service at the Baptist church and assisted at the obsequies of her to whom he had long been a personal friend. Faint praise has not been her portion. Faint praise could not convey the lesson of her useful life.

LEG CUT OFF.

One night last week, at Goresburg, Jerry Griffin, a brakeman on the C. & S. R. W., while attempting to uncouple the locomotive from the rest of the train, fell and one of his legs was badly crushed by a wheel of the engine. He was brought to this city, and on Sunday the limb was amputated by Dr. Ike Warren.

PERSONAL.

Miss Jennie Duerson, who has been visiting relatives in this county, left Thursday for her home near Louisville—in consequence of which a certain young M. D. has the "blues." On the same day Miss Madge Duke left for a lengthy visit to her sister in Independence, Mo. Misses Artemesia Robinson, Florence Berry and Julia Stephenson, all from Danvers College, Harbottle, have been spending a few days with Miss Mattie Gentry in the country.

Miss Jennie McKnight, of Springfield, O., is the guest of Mrs. Jerry Boyle. Miss Bessie K. Stodghill, to the delight of her many friends here, returned home from a long visit to Lancaster on last Sunday.

Miss Jennie Lackey left for her home in Lancaster last Saturday. Since Miss Jennie has been in our city she has made hosts of friends, and her departure is regretted by all. Miss Ayres has returned from a protracted visit to friends near Louisville.
